Seven Hundred Grads To Hear Dr. Gustavson

Approximately 700 seniors will be participating in commencement, 10 a.m. Saturday, June 4, in the OU stadium, according to registrar Virgil Sharpe.

Dr. R. G. Gustavson, former Chancellor at the University of Nebraska (1946-1953), will speak to the graduating seniors.

Dr. Gustavson

Since 1959, Dr. Gustavson has been Professor of Chemistry and Advisor on Television and Science Education at the University of Arizona, Tucson. When he left Nebraska in 1953, Dr. Gustavson went to Washington, D. C., where he was President and Executive Director of Resources for the Future, Incorporated.

Dr. Gustavson was born in Denver. He received both his bachelor and master degrees from the University of Denver and his doctorate from the University of Chicago (magna cum laude).

He taught at Colorado Agricultural College, the University of Denver, University of Colorado and the University of Chicago. He came to Nebraska from the University of Chicago where he was Vice President and Dean of Faculties.

Dr. Gustavson has 16 honorary degrees. He has served as president, chairman, delegate or member of numerous boards, foundations, committees and commissions.

Currently he is Chairman, Board of Directors, Resources for the Future, Inc.; Chairman, Research Advisory Committee, American Cancer Society, Inc.; Consultant to the Program in Economic Development and Administration, The Ford Foundation; Member, Commission on Science Instruction in the Elementary and Junior High School Grades, America Association for the Advancement of Science.

Leslie Mann is a candidate for graduation summa cum laude, with distinction. Ludwig Mehrer, Mary Poppino, Sally Shepard Schlei, and Ellen Jorgensen are candidates for graduation magna cum laude.

Livi Bergman and Patti Matson are candidates for graduation cum laude, with distinction. Other candidates for cum laude degrees are Linda Flack, Janet Hammond, Marvin Peterson, Jennifer Cackin and Lorene Johnson.

The candidates for graduation are:

Tuition Is Up!—Regents' Decision May Put Students' Budgets In Red

By John Weber

Omaha voters left the Board of Regents no choice but to raise tuition. It goes from $14 to $18 an hour for residents and $23 to $28 for non-residents in September.

The increase will cost a resident student carrying 16 hours a semester about $128 more a year. Non-residents will pay $160 more a year for the same number of hours. A 3-hour class costing residents $42 this semester will cost $54 or $12 more in September.

The Board also announced the budget for 1966-67 year at $6.557 million. This is a $876,800 increase over the current budget. This is a 15½ per cent increase over the current year.

About $4,650,542 will be spent on faculty and staff salaries, $602,652 for maintenance, $238,696 for equipment, $116,910 for student assistance and $50,000 building and site.

Salaries are 82.2 per cent of the total budget. Maintenance comprises 10.6 per cent. Building and site expenses are less than one per cent of the total budget.

Students will be financing OU at 74 per cent while taxpayers will contribute only 23 per cent. About 3 per cent will come from miscellaneous sources.

In other business, the Regents accepted 10 new faculty appointments and three resignations.

The appointments are:

Mike Alan Barton, M.S., instructor of speech and associate director University Theater; John Charles Beukema, M.A., mathematics instructor; Gary Lee Blum, M.A., philosophy instructor; Shanti K. Bose, Ph.D., visiting mathematics professor.

Others are James Eder, M.S., physics instructor; Kenneth J. Garry, M.S., speech and drama instructor; Mrs. Donna Jorgenson, M.Ed., art instructor.

Concluding the list of appointments are Kuldip Singh Mali, Ph.D., economics associate professor; Herbert Papenfuss, M.S., biology assistant professor; and Russell A. Snyder, Ph.D., economics associate professor.

Resigning are Nancy Samuelson, English instructor; S.A. Spagnuolo, assistant professor of foreign languages and Philip E. Vogel, associate professor of geography.

The Board received funds for three scholarships and two grants.

Effective August 31, Carl W. Helmstadter and Harry L. Rice will be titled Emeritus professors. Nine retired faculty members will also be so honored: Martin Bush, Russel Derbyshire, Mildred Gearhart, Gertrude Kincaide, Bertha Koch, R. J. Maxwell, L. O. Taylor, Sarah Tirrell and Mary Padou Young.

Senior Day Activities Will Include Talks, Awards, And Dinner Dance

Senior classes will be dismissed this morning at 10:30 a.m. for Senior Day Activities.

The Senior Day program will begin at 10:30 a.m. in the Student Center Ballroom. Class sponsor Dr. Paul Peterson will give the Senior Charge and Lt. Col. William Moeller, a Bootstrap message.

Outstanding seniors will be honored. Awards to be presented include the Alpha Lambda Delta Award, The Delta Sigma Pi Award, the American Association of University Women Award, the Paul T. Crossman Award and the American Institute of Chemists Award.

Following the program, there will be groundbreaking ceremonies for the Rendezvous, the senior class gift to the University.

Plans call for the Rendezvous, a meeting place for students, to be composed of an eight-sided concrete wall with a planter in the center. The planter will contain the traditional senior tree.

It will be located on the hill south of the Student Center and west of the Library.

The class of '66 has raised more money for their gift than any senior class in the history of the University.

Last year, $500 was collected. This year, $4,550 has been collected. The goal is $5,000 and class president Loren Drum is still accepting contributions.

"It's wonderful!" said Dean of Students Don Pfisterer. "It shows what a little organization can do."

"All of the Senior Class officers this year have been outstanding," he said.

Senior Day activities will be concluded tonight at 6:30 p.m. with a dinner dance at the Holiday Inn. The Impacts Combo will play and the dance will last until mid-night.

Letters To The Editor

Yearbook Picture Shabby?

To the Tomahawk Staff:

The Tomahawk is representative of not only the University of Omaha and its entirety, but of many hours of hard work by the students who produce the yearbook.

With this I would like to say that the University's football team is also representative of many hours of hard work by both the coaches and the players.

Inasmuch as their fine record of 8 wins and 2 losses indicates the dedication put forth by those involved, they should merit a TOMAHAWK picture which is representative of their effort, rather than the "sandlot" depiction presented by the TOMAHAWK staff.

A major fact is, this yearbook will be seen not only by Omahans, but also by friends and acquaintances of bootstrappers and out-state students.

It is indeed a poor illustration by the Tomahawk, a slap in the face to the football team, and a poor typification of the University of Omaha, that such a shabby picture of our football team should exemplify the efforts of so many people.

Jerry Ferguson

As a Yearbook reader and not a member of the Tomahawk staff, I liked the friendly casualness of the pictures. In these pictures I could actually see the faces of the football players, instead of pinheads in the usual posed football pic. Twenty years from now I'd like to turn back to my Tomahawk and see their faces, not a solid block of uniforms.—MC.

Worried Student Needs Help

Dear Editor,

I was dismayed to see that Dr. Milo Bail and Terry Carpenter want to see the university become part of a state-wide system of junior colleges.

If Mr. Traywick lets something like this happen without putting up a fight, he doesn't deserve the name president.

Please Mr. Traywick come out of your ivory tower and help us, or do you want to help your students?

Thank you for being at the Ma-ie Day parade. I've always wondered what you looked like. I have even watched for you on campus. I hope I see you again, maybe on campus.

Well gentlemen, what next? Is it to be N.U. at OU? The junior college of Omaha? Or OU with high tuition, made for just the financial elite?

I wait with panic for the outcome.

Why didn't you people take Mayor Sorenson's advice?

A worried student,
M. J. Thompson

Faculty Also Manned Polls

Dear Editor;

Being two participating students in the mill levy campaign, we would like to thank the faculty for all the help they gave.

Very few students realized the work they did. While we were shivering in the rain and cold, they were also manning the polls. Many a cold student appreciated the coffee and cokes the faculty delivered to them.

We want to express a note of thanks to the faculty and everyone else who worked on the mill levy for Omaha University.

Commencement
Has New Touch

"I would like to make commencement as meaningful as possible to everyone," explained Dr. Leland Traywick.

With that, the University of Omaha President announced that he would be happy to pose for a picture with any interested graduate. He is doing so because many people complained because they weren't given their diplomas personally at the last commencement.

Dr. Traywick will be on the front steps of the Ad Building commencement morning between 8:30 and 9:15. Pictures can be taken at that time.

Impersonal as they may be, commencement ceremonies are something generally looked forward to by graduating students.

In view of this, Traywick noted, "There's a possibility that summer graduates may be allowed to return in January or June of next year to participate in commencement exercises."

Nine Diplomas To Be Inscribed With Distinction Honor

Nine seniors will shake President Leland Traywick's hand when they are graduated in June. They are the nine seniors who are candidates for degrees with distinction.

Three seniors will graduate with B.F.A. degrees with distinction. They are two artists, Louise M. Senex and Gertrude Shimko, and musician James Kaspar.

Three more seniors will receive B.S. degrees with distinction. They are home economist Leslie Ann Roe Mann and journalists Olivia Bergman and Patricia Matson.

The other three will get B.A. degrees with distinction. Mathematicians John Ernest Jorgenson and K. Michael Rossman and philosopher Pauline Williams are the recipients.

To be eligible for the honor, the senior was required to have a general average of at least 3.0 with at least a 3.40 in his major field and be nominated by his department chairman.

The fine arts graduates completed projects in their field. Outside experts judged their efforts worthy of undergraduate distinction. They also passed a one-hour oral examination.

The other six successfully passed both a two-day battery of written exams and a one-hour oral test.

The diplomas of the nine graduates will be inscribed indicating the distinction and the field.

NASA Traineeship
Won By OU Senior

Senior Carl Pixley received a three-year traineeship with Rutgers University in New Jersey.

The traineeship sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration provides tuition and $2400 a year. Pixley will be working on both a Masters and Ph.D. in mathematics. He will be required to study all the time without taking a job.

Phi Kappa Phi Initiates
OU Corinthian Chapter

Phi Kappa Phi, the nation's second-largest honorary, installed its newest chapter on the OU campus yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Archie N. Solberg installed 20 OU faculty members as the initial Corinthian chapter of Phi Kappa Phi. Dr. Solberg is vice-president of PKP and dean of the graduate school at the University of Toledo.

Rudolph D. Michael of Virginia Poly Technical Institute assisted. He edits the PKP "Journal."

Transferees

Corinthians transferring their membership and PKP initiates were also installed. The 21 former Corinthians who transferred their membership to Phi Kappa Phi are:

Victoria Bastrom, Floyd Bergman, Anna Bogacz, Jennifer Cackin, Ruth Everman, Linda Flack, Janet Hammond, Myra Hellbusch, Judith Hoevet, Marsha Hunter, John Jorgenson, Anne L. Kochanowicz, Harriet Kuncel, Leslie Mann, Patricia Matson, Ludwig Mehrer, Frank Nocita, Mary Alice Poppino, Daniel Rishel, Sally Schlu, and Charles Sheppard.

The 20 initiates are:

Alumni Initiated

Twenty alumni were also initiated. They represented a small number of the graduated Corinthians who expressed an interest in becoming part of PKP.

The faculty officers were announced at that time. President is Dr. W.C.B. Lambert, correspondent, Harl Dalstrom; treasurer, Mrs. Rosalie Saltzman and secretary, Orville D. Memard.

Dr. Lambert summed up the PKP initiation as "a great day for scholarship and education at the University of Omaha. The honors society of Phi Kappa Phi has national standards and national recognition. Membership will thus give broad recognition to those University of Omaha students who earn the honor."

Twelve Rooms A Possibility
For Proposed Admin Annex

Bids will be opened May 25 to build an annex to the southwest court of the Ad Building.

The annex will provide space for 40 faculty offices. The addition is an economical way to gain extra space because three walls and a floor area are already available, according to University President Leland Traywick.

The building will begin as soon as possible after the bids are in. "We need it desperately by September," said Traywick.

Space will be made in the Ad Building for from eight to 12 classrooms by moving the mail room, stenobureau, registrar's office and business offices.

The mail room is set for AFROTC Lt. Col. Kenneth Dyer's office. It was set for that area to correspond to post office delivery regulations.

Some moves are still in the planning stage, according to President Traywick. Definite locations won't be set until later.

Seven Biology Majors Receive
Grants; Work For Top Degrees

Seven Omaha University biology majors have received grants to work on advanced degrees. They will be teaching or research assistants.

Those to receive Ph.D.'s are Charles Ihrke to Oregon State, Michael Minock to Utah State, and Harold Adams to Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

The following will work on Masters Degrees: Virginia Evenson to Colorado University, Carol Bachus to Missouri, Ken Kortright at Omaha U., and Dennis Brown, also at Omaha U.

Dr. Merle E. Brooks said, "We think its a tremendous accomplishment" to have such a large number of students in the biology department going on to higher degrees. He said, "These are just the people who are going to go on and have received grants to work on advanced degrees." He said, there are many other students who are going into teaching or other professional jobs.

Applications for scholarships must be submitted to the Student Personnel Office before July 29 in order to be reviewed by the Scholarship Committee.

Usual Women's Class Attracts Several Men

By Carol Feelhaber

The old saying "It's a woman's world" no longer holds true in Miss Margaret Killian's interior decorating class.

Out of 68 students in the present class, 19 are males.

Feminine hostility to these male intruders is continuing to climb throughout the semester.

One outraged co-ed said, "What are all those boys doing in a home ec class? They are all just looking for an easy grade and an easy class."

Would You Believe?

Another bewildered female revealed, "The first day I couldn't believe all the boys. I checked the class schedule to make sure I was in the right place.

"I even went out to check the room number to make sure I had the right room. I asked the person next to me to make sure I was in the right place."

Several girls weren't too surprised by the number of would-be decorators.

"I worked during registration so I knew the number of boys enrolling in the class," said Junior Vicki Adam.

Junior Jackie Horn said, "Word was out that there was going to be a large number of boys in the class. I didn't quite realize there would be this many."

Yea, Fellas!

Miss Killian is delighted by the male interest shown in her course.

"Men can usually offer better opinions on the structure of a house or room. Their comments are always valuable to class discussion," she said.

Miss Killian suggested that many men enroll in the course because they have worked as interior decorators at one time. Several others feel this knowledge will help them in later life.

Improvement in the fields of food technology, food preservation, and better food packaging has made home economics a field more open to men.

William Chinn, head chef at the Ranch Hotel, has been the only man to major completely in home economics at OU.

"I usually try to talk men out of majoring completely in home economics," said Miss Killian. "Our classes don't restrict men but they are geared toward the female student. This usually puts a man at a disadvantage."

Miss Killian added that the course is designed to introduce the student to the fundamentals of decorating.

Loafers Don't Last

When asked if she thought some of the male students were enrolled in interior decorating for an easy grade, she said, "The loafers usually get discouraged and drop out in the first few weeks. The grades given to the male students have been every bit as good as the ones given the female students."

Senior Jack Gatewood admitted that his interest in the course stems from the work he had done.

"It couldn't bother me less to be in a class of mostly girls," he said. "I'm learning something and that is all that counts," he concluded.

As the course progressed through this semester, female students hadn't changed their minds in regard to the intruding males.

However, they may have to get used to the coeducational class—it looks like a trend in male enrollment has set in.

Mom's Work Gets Degree

By Rich Lundgren

By cooking umpteen meals for OU students and faculty, Imogene Johnson was able to help her son fulfill his life-long dream of becoming a doctor.

"Imy" as she is called by her co-workers started working for the OU food service department in 1952 after she moved from Kansas City to help her son, William, through medical school at Creighton.

"He had only me," the short, stocky wisp of a woman said. Her husband died when William was just over a year old.

While her son was working his way through school, and hitting the books, Mom sat up with her five grandchildren.

Sometimes this babysitting went into the late hours of the night. This late hour grandmothering was made somewhat difficult by the fact that she had to get up in the pre-dawn hours and be at work at 6 a.m.

Finally all this mother-son project paid off on June 2, 1965. William Johnson became Dr. Johnson. He now operates his own clinic at 2912 Manderson.

Now Imy can slow down a bit. Since she will be 65 this summer, Mrs. Johnson will be working part time this fall for OU's food service.

Students' Art Shown Today

The Art Thesis Show is the current display on the third floor of the Student Center.

Paintings by eight art majors who graduated in January, will graduate in June or next year can be seen in Room 313.

The works, termed "the culmination of students' efforts in a particular discipline," by an art instructor are in acrylic, pencil, collage or plaster cuts.

Artists included in the show are David Kawami, Trudy Shimko, Ward Schumaker, Louise Senez, Robert Walsh, Sharon Eddy, Edward Jones and Tom Ryan.

These exhibits will remain in the center until about June 6.

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

18 to 25 Years of Age

We offer the most complete high paying respectable summer position of any corporation in the Metropolitan Omaha area. Work will be permanent for the entire balance of the summer, and each student will gain invaluable experience applicable to any future career.

Council Gets Officers, Butler New President

Election of next year's officers occupied the order of business at Wednesday's Student Council meeting.

After the installation of five of the six newly-elected members, the floor was opened to nominations for president.

In that contest, this year's president, Doug Slaughter, was defeated by newcomer Jim Butler, affiliated with Sigma Phi Epsilon. Slaughter is currently the president of Pi Kappa Alpha.

In the race for vice-president, two incumbents were nominated. After the ballots were counted, Sandy Friedman lost to sophomore Randy Owens, affiliated with Lambda Chi Alpha. Friedman, an independent, represents the junior class.

Bev Grasso, affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta, won the office of secretary. She was a Council member during her freshman year. Brenda Williams, representing the junior class, was the other nominee. She is affiliated with Chi Omega.

The office of treasurer was last on the ballot. In that contest, Tom Fisher, affiliated with Pi Kappa Alpha, was defeated by Joe Beninato, a junior affiliated with Lambda Chi Alpha. Fisher was on the Council last year; Beninato represented his freshman class on the Council.

Drama Awards Presented; Honorary Takes Members

The annual University Theater Awards Dinner Banquet was held Saturday night in the Student Center Ballroom.

Members of the University Theater as well as several faculty and administrative members were present.

Fourteen Omaha University students and two faculty members were initiated into the National Honorary Dramatic Fraternity, Alpha Psi Omega.

Dr. F. L. Clark, head of the dramatics department, presented other annual awards to active members of the theater.

'Sing' Winners ETV Airs OU Film

A documentary entitled "City of Nine Thousand," will be aired Monday and Thursday at 7:30 p.m. over Channel 26.

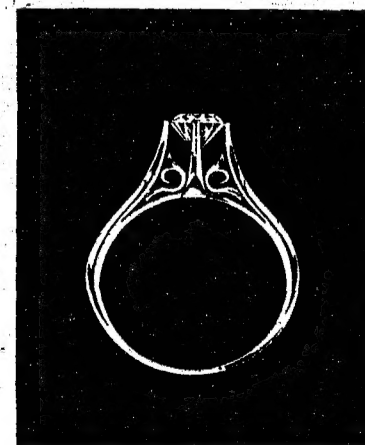

The film, which is about Omaha University, was made by journalism students as part of their course work for a newsfilm class.

The narration will be done by journalism student Loren Schnittgrund.

Zeta Tau Alpha and Lambda Chi Alpha took first place sorority and fraternity honors in the sixteenth annual all school Spring Sing Wednesday evening.

Sigma Kappa and Alpha Xi Delta sororities were awarded second and third place ribbons respectively. Theta Chi and Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternities won the men's second and third place ribbons.

Grass Men Nurse Green

By Joe Reiss

Many a student gazes dreamily across the verdant Omaha University campus each day.

Problems of romantic, scholastic, and even domestic origins are soothed by the gently curving landscape.

This spring, the love bird has flown back to his OU roost, and the well manicured lawns again play host to cooing coeds and their mates.

Who is responsible for this perpetual clean, green carpet? Ted Zyblut, that's who.

Who's Ted Zyblut?

Every year Zyblut and his small trusty band wage a constant war against the evils of crabgrass, dead grass, and worst of all—students. Yes, it's a sad tale, yet true, the benefactors of the grounds-crew's hard work are also the crew's worst enemy.

They tread over the lawn, they crush it, burn it, and ignore it. And when spring arrives, they sprawl all over it.

"They're not hurting it a bit," says Zyblut of the sprawlers. He's not so easy going on students and faculty who demolish the young blades with careless smoking habits and the habit of stomping over the tender tufts.

Zyblut, known to his loyal gang as the famous "Green Thumb," (no relation to Bruce Wayne's gardener) has acquired his agricultural know-how from his Physical Plant cronies.

Indeed, when talking to this reporter, he qualified most of his replies with a "heh, Henry" to the ruddy faced man sucking on pipe which has obviously been his companion for many seasons.

Each query made was the occasion for deep consideration and debate. It went something like this:

"Just how much grass is there on the OU campus?"

"Oh, I'd say about 15 acres or so, heh, Henry?"

"No, you gotta reckon those sections over by the AA Building," replied Henry after a long pause.

"More like about 20 acres," said a passing member of the crew.

"What amount is spent on fertilizer?"

After a short conference and a long pull on Henry's pipe, the duo "figured" that $1300 every two years was a good figure.

One thing the whole crew was in agreement on is the hardest place to grow grass is the football field.

Zyblut noted that football in the fall and track in the spring are "rough on the young grass." He and his cohorts all want to see a good grass crop on the field so "we can start playing some games over there."

So far Zyblut hasn't run into any major problems with the grass. His five man crew is assigned different sections to "police up" every day. The elm trees are sprayed once a year, and "pretty well take care of themselves."

Main Problems

The main upkeep problems involve the Kentucky blue-grass and the shrubbery covering the campus. However, the grounds-crew have so far been successful in weeding out all bad influences such as that legendary foe—crabgrass.

They keep the grass at an attractive level with the aid of two huge 41-inch mowers and two grass-devouring 21-inchers.

No definite changes are in Zyblut's forecast for OU landscape. There probably won't be any trees planted around the west mall, in front of the AA building because of the uncertainty of the land's future use.

"You know they might build a building one of these days," mused Zyblut.

He would like to see the "ol' beat up bushes" north of the Administration Building replaced with flower beds, but realizes this would have to be done by donation.

OU's leading practicing botanist gathered his agricultural abilities by "talking to them" he said nodding at his gardening pals, and by "reading some of them pamphlets those grass companies send out."

The crew seemed confident that the "grass-man" knew his job. And, incidentally, for those couples worried about finding their place in the sun this spring, Zyblut is predicting "a good year for grass."

Firemen Take Ferguson Masters Dual Roles: Sports, Theater

By John Rheinfrank

Thirty-two Omaha fire captains and chiefs began their second eight-week course in Fire Supervision two weeks ago at Omaha University.

The special Fire Division Course was designed to improve various skills of local Fire Department officials.

The first eight-week session began in February when over 100 firemen enrolled in the non-credit, no-cost course.

Lectures were presented by Dr. William Jaynes and Dr. Richard Nicholson on subjects ranging from supervisory style to handling hostility and being persuasive.

Dr. Jaynes recommended 32 of the captains and chiefs for the second eight-week class periods on the basis of their test scores and their supervisory ability. Tuesday and Wednesday classes will be completed June 16.

Mr. Moore and Dr. Jaynes helped organize the special program in cooperation with Public Safety Director Francis Lynch and Fire Chief Martin Dineen.

Mr. Moore stated that the exposure the Supervision Course affords "is excellent both for the fire department and faculty members."

In addition to the Fire Course in Supervision Mr. Moore mentioned two other courses which OU offers under the Department of Continuing Education: The Short Course for Nursing Administrators and Basics of International Marketing.

Such courses are part of the continuing community service provided by OU both to Omaha and to the state.

"How is the crowd taking it" is often the thought of Jerry Ferguson on the football field and on the stage.

Jerry plays two roles on the Omaha University campus. He is active in sports and in the theater.

Jerry, a native of Peoria, Illinois, has attended OU since 1964 and is now a junior. He has lettered both years in football, and has been in three University Theater productions.

Jerry's first play was "The Dumbwaiter" in the Spring of '65. He played an English hoodlum. His second play was the one-act "Hello Out There", in which he played an itinerant gambler. His third was the "Madwoman of Chailot", with the part of a mysterious prospector.

When asked how he liked the theater, Jerry stated that the theater allows him to express himself. He has always played a villain type character, but would like to try a part in a comedy or a musical.

'Sense Of Satisfaction'

Jerry believes there is a sense of satisfaction in both acting and in football.

Athletics give him the foundation of competition, and he believes that to do anything worthwhile, one has to work well and hard.

Pointing out a difference between acting and football, he said that usually people in athletics are not able to continue after graduation. However, there is always a possibility to continue acting after graduation, in junior theaters.

Jerry believes strongly that when he is knocked down in anything, he should pick himself up again, and start over no matter how hard it is. Jerry was seriously injured last October in the Homecoming game against Pittsburg State.

His neck injury required a "mummy" type cast until December 16. The cast covered most of his body, and was very difficult to move around in.

When asked about his injury, he said, "Being an amateur actor at the time, I staggered to the sidelines, made it to the bench and passed out. The only thing that occurred to me when I awakened was, 'how is the crowd taking it?' I knew I was hurt, but not that badly."

He also has a strong feeling of respect for people, and this helps him greatly in his double role.

In an interview with him in the greenroom of the University Theater, he said that the coaches helped tremendously working with him and getting him back in to school.

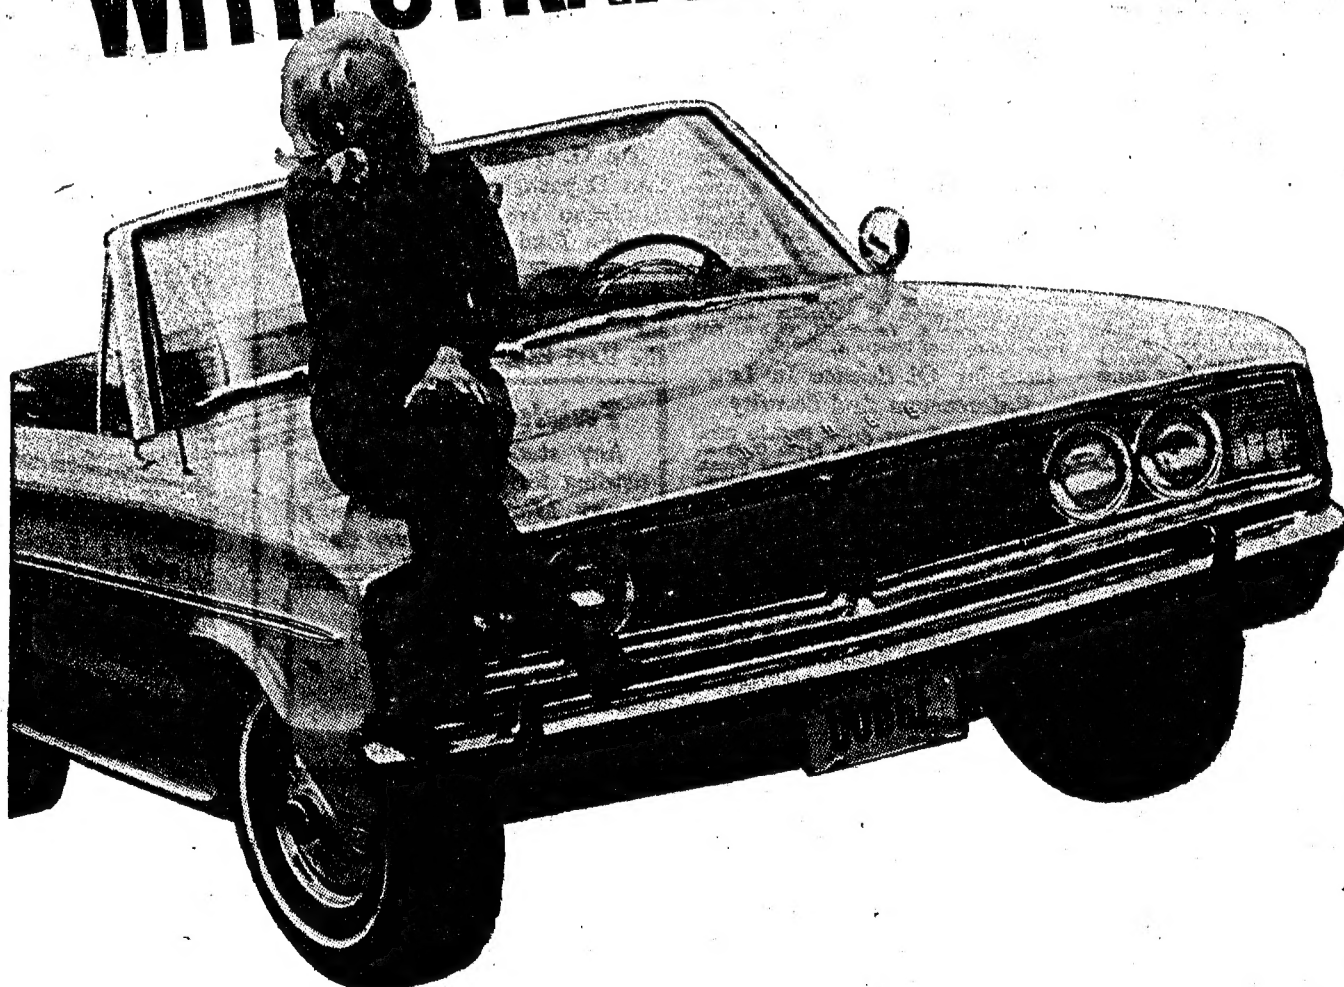

"Although they are coaches and football is their job, they also emphasize school work and getting the main thing, the diploma."

'High Regard'

Jerry has high regard for Dr. Edwin Clark, the head of the University Theater, and said that Dr. Clark, in comparison to the coaches, is a firm believer in good will. "He knows what he wants out of a person, and gets it. In effect, he is much like a football coach."

Jerry is in contact with many people on campus. He is a Sigma Phi Epsilon active, past vice president of the O Club and a business personnel management major.

Vogel To Accept
Offer In Oregon

Dr. Philip Vogel, associate professor of geography at OU, has resigned to accept an offer from the Oregon College of Education.

He will serve the college in a similar position that he held at Omaha University. The school, which is located at Monmouth, Oregon, has 2400 students. The geography department he will join has seven other members.

Mr. Vogel said he is "not disgruntled in any way" and his "primary reason for moving is his desire to live in the Pacific Northwest."

But, he also added that "you can't ignore a substantial increase in salary."

KOWH Donates $1,000 To Athletic Study Fund

The University of Omaha Athletic Scholarship Fund has received a $1,000 donation from Radio Station KOWH AM-FM.

Mr. Richard Garvey, station manager, noted the school's potential contribution to the enrichment of the community.

He also expressed the gratitude of the KOWH stations for the fine cooperation of the school on a project last fall during which KOWH broadcast all of the games on the Omaha University Football schedule.

President Leland Traywick accepted on behalf of the University.

OU Tracksters Topple 11 Marks; Worked Hard

Seven indoor records and four outdoor records were established during the track season by the University of Omaha's track team.

The indoor record was five wins and one loss while the outdoor record was two wins and two losses.

Coach Cardwell said, "The boys worked real hard and had a pretty good season."

He said the durable wonder, Ken Gould will be the hardest to replace in the distance events because he can run anything from the half mile to the six mile run and be tough in any of them.

Gould, Top U.S. Miler

Gould's 4:09.2 in the Texas Relays established him as the top miler in the country by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics as of May 4.

Ken Gould and Gerald Allen were honored as Outstanding Athletes of the year at the Spring Sports Banquet held Monday. Bill Haas was chosen Top-Scholar Athlete.

Gould was cited for his top-notch performance in his four years of track at Omaha University. This year he placed fourth in a field of 170 entries in the NAIA National Cross-Country meet. Last year his time was second best in the nation in the 3,000 meter steeplechase.

For these efforts Gould was chosen All-American. He holds the school records for outdoor track in the one, two, and three

Awards Given To Intramural Heads

Thirty-three intramural sports managers were honored Monday in a midday banquet at the Student Center.

The managers were heads of teams in the four major sports—basketball, bowling, football and softball.

Each manager received a tie pin award.

Tom Kahley and Bill Poff during the awards presentation.

Gerald Allen, was selected for his rugged play. Last fall Allen broke the single season rushing record (815 yds.) which was previously held by Roger Sayers (707) in 1961.

In his Junior year he was selected by the Associated Press as Little All-American. He was drafted by the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League and the New York Jets of the American League.

The top-Scholar Athlete, Bill Haas, maintained a 3.2 cumulative grade point average, throughout his two years of attendance at OU. Haas is a starter in basketball and football and is expected to be one of the top pass receivers on the grid team next fall. He was given an honorable mention in the NAIA All-America last semester.

Members of the bowling team, the only national championship holders on campus, were honored at the banquet. They are Bill Poff, Tom Kahley, Dave Richardson, Steve Sheppard and Bill Olson.

KFAB Sportscenter Don Cole, toastmaster at the banquet, dubbed bowling team coach Burt Kurth as "Coach of the Year," for having national champs.

Baseball coach Virg Yelkin presented President Leland Traywick with two trophies his team won this year in the Phillip's University Invitational tournament and the Nebraska Wesleyan Invitational Tourney.

TKE Team Faces Animals For Softball Championship

Animals defeated the Glovemen Tuesday for the right to meet TKE on Wednesday for the overall softball championship.

TKE was the winner of League I and was undefeated in league play. The Animals were winners of League II with a 5-1 record.

As the school year ends it is apparent that the Pi Kaps will win the trophy given to the team who scores highest in all intramural events.

Next year intramural director Burt Kurth will add badminton to the intramural schedule of events.

Asked about the possibility of adding intramural hockey, absent since the late 1950's, Kurth said that officials were against the sport on the intramural level. Too many injuries and the high rent at Ak-Sar-Ben Coliseum were listed as the reasons.

Baseballers Over Dana 6-0

Omaha University gained a bye into the finals of the NAIA South Area 3 Baseball Tournament as they nipped Kansas Wesleyan 3-2 and topped Dana College 6-0.

In the Wesleyan Classic thriller Indian catcher Joe Berenis tagged a two-out double in the last of the ninth to keep the Indians alive and tie the score. Senior chucker Ken McEwen fashioned 10-innings of 4-hit ball only to receive a lined smash to his left foot as a reward.

Reliever Gary Carlson came in to retire the side and send the game into extra innings.

In the eleventh inning Berenis again provided the necessary punch with a hot-grounder to second that was juggled, sending pinch runner Lon Bernth home with the winning tally.

Dana College found rookie hurler Jack Holder too hot to handle as he fired a 2-hit shut-out, striking out 11 and walking only two.

Spirit Spenders Chosen for 1966-67

No, sports fans, the Gateway Sports page does not include society news, but since these lovely young ladies are going to add the necessary color and enthusiasm to the athletic department, we felt they should grace our page. The new cheerleaders for the 1966-67 season are: Karyl Ronsin, Shirley Newcomer, Brenda Williams, Leslie Eggers, Jo Anne Pechous, Joanie Fulton and Sharon Hopkins. Roxie Holmes is not pictured.

Batmen's Fate Decided By Tourney's Outcome

The fate of the baseball team will have been decided by now in the N.A.I.A. Area III South tournament at Rosenblatt Stadium. If the Indians have been victorious Wednesday and Thursday they will advance to the area playoff next week in Rosenblatt.

The opponent of the winner of the tourney just completed will face the Area III North champion. The winner in that two-out-of-three playoff will travel to St. Joseph, Missouri in June for the National N.A.I.A. tournament.

Omaha should have an excellent chance at the area title. The only stranger in this week's meet is Kansas Wesleyan. The Kansans have a 12 and 4 record. The other two teams, Dana and Emporia, have fallen to the Indians earlier in the season.

Dana was a surprise tourney selection over Kearney State, and Emporia sneaked in after Pittsburg State and Washburn declined their bids.

Pittsburg was the first choice to be one of the Kansas teams by winning the CIC. Washburn, the runner-up in the conference, has already checked in their gear.

A point to ponder concerning Pittsburg is that they refused the bid because the tourney conflicted with their final examination schedule. Pittsburg managed to make it to Omaha last year at the same time of the year. Pittsburg was routed last year!

Omaha won the right to represent Nebraska when they won three straight last weekend to take the Nebraska Wesleyan Invitational. Virg Yelkin's crew took Dana 4 to 0, Wesleyan 3 to 0, and edged Creighton 6 to 5.

In the championship game against Creighton, Omaha nearly blew it in the eighth inning when Creighton scored four runs. The Jay runs were mostly the result of shaky relief pitching on the part of Larry Wood and Irv Rehder. Wood had relieved a tired Al Zimmerman who had pitched seven innings of two-hit ball.

Freshman Larry Carlson, the third reliever in the eighth, had the answer to stop the rally as he retired four straight batters to save it for Zimmerman. Zimmerman's record is 3 and 1.

The Indians took advantage of Creighton's wild pitching and ten walks for most of their runs. Omaha's hitting proved to be rather anemic, as they collected only three hits.

The win was the third straight by Omaha over the Jays this year.

In the morning game against Nebraska Wesleyan, the pitching of Jack Holder and the hitting of Rich Lang were too much for the Plainsmen. Holder fired a three-hitter at the Lincoln crew and little second baseman Rich Lang connected for a homer over the left field fence. Holder is 3-0 on the season.

In the Friday opener for OU against Dana, Ken McEwen won his sixth straight with a three hitter. Omaha gathered their six runs on four hits off Dana's Jim Jorgensen. Jorgensen, was plagued by weak support throughout, as Omaha executed a three run squeeze play.

The Indians placed four men on the all-tourney team—Pitchers Ken McEwen and Jack Holder, Infielder Rich Lang and Outfielder Rich Vacek.

Tennis Team Finishes Last

The Omaha tennis team, plagued by ineligibilities, ended a dismal season by losing to Drake Tuesday.

The Indian record was 1-9 and they were last in the CIC tourney.

Three players were ineligible this season. One, Ron Grothe, is called by coach Jim Borsheim, "one of the better players in the area."

The Indians lost another player, Chuck Beziat, in the middle of the season. He was ineligible and probably won't be back next season.

The top four players of the season, Dick Hawkes, Stuart Sloan, Gerry Giles and Prentice Besore will return next season.

The lone senior is John Brunk, the number five man.

OU's Golfers Finish Last At CIC Tourney

Omaha University's golfers wound up the season in the wake of a last place finish at the CIC tournament at Topeka.

The Indians finished the season with a 5-9-1 slate.

Jim Thompson, a junior, had the lowest season average on the squad at 78.6 strokes. Senior Jim Gember followed with an 80.3 norm.

From the starting line-up of this year, Gember and Saul Errington are seniors, while Thompson and Paul Anderson are juniors. The lone sophomore is Don Light.

Thompson and Anderson are three-year performers.

Two Honoraries Sponsor Spring Sing As Waokiya Taps Twelve, ODK Lets 23 In

Singing was not the only activity at the annual Spring Sing Wednesday evening. Waokiya and Omicron Delta Kappa honoraries tapped new members, and initiates of the new Phi Kappa Phi (Corinthian chapter) were announced.

Waokiya tapped 12 new members, including its four officers—Dianne Johnson, president; Delores Hurlburt, vice-president;

Joan Berkheimer, secretary, and Nina Bieda, historian.

Other new members in the senior women's honorary are Pam Adams, Vicki Adam, Mary Concannon, Nancy Lunsford, Anne MacLeod, JoAnn Kruntorad, Carolyn Williams and Judi Zerbe.

ODK chose Joe Beninato, John Berkheimer, Lonnie and Ronnie

Bernth, James Boe, Merle Brooks, James Butler, Jerry Ferguson, Robert Gustafson, Fred Haeblerlein, Michael Hill, Francis M. Hurst and LeMoyn Johnson.

ODK Members

Concluding the list are: Kenneth Kizzier, Gary Kunkler, Duane Mannon, Michael Mench, Timothy Nelson, William Olson, Rodney Roenfeldt, Douglas Slaughter, James Thompson and Wayne Wotherspoon.

The annual Honors Banquet last night was held at 6 p.m. in the Student Center Ballroom. Members of the new Phi Kappa Phi chapter, ODK and Waokiya were honored.

Dr. Bernice Slote, editor of the "Prairie Schooner" literary magazine at Nebraska University, gave her speech entitled "Behind the Printed Page."

Top to bottom . . . Karen, Nancy and Kathy.

One To Be Queen

If you like to wear cut-offs and tennies, the Tau Kappa Epsilon Coral Dance should appeal to you. The password is casual for the 8 p.m. dance at the Carter Lake Club Saturday.

One Greek card per couple admits you to the dance and to the music of the Dark Knights combo of Sioux Falls College.

Club Chatter

The Omaha Collegiate Council is seeking a representative to serve a two-year period. Any sophomore or junior with a minimum 2.0 average may apply to Mrs. Stanley, Student Center, Room 250. The member will be chosen by the Student Council. The Collegiate Council is composed of representatives of the three area colleges and six nursing schools.

Jan Archer Gets Corinthian Honor With 3.94 Accumulative Average

Corinthians has chosen a sophomore in the College of Applied Arts as scholar of the month. She is home economics major Janet Archer, who has an accumulative average of 3.94.

Janet is a member of Chi Omega sorority and this year chosen as one of OU's 10 best dressed coeds.

She has held a number of campus offices . . . she has served as president of Alpha Lambda Delta and is serving as secretary-treasurer of Gamma Pi Sigma, chemistry honorary. Next year she will be president of the Panhellenic Council.

As a Chi Omega pledge she received the award for having the highest pledge average at the Greek Week Banquet.

After graduation Janet plans to either teach, go into dietetics or work in food research.

Aside from her activities, she works part-time for the Chemistry department.

Cindy's a come-as-you-are party

She belongs to the bright and lively crowd that goes places and does things—so it's only natural that she takes to the new, the modern and the convenient. For instance, like most busy folks, you'll often see Cindy driving into the U.S. National Drive-In Bank at 20th & Douglas. She appreciates being able to come just as she is—whether she's just finished gardening, on her way to a golf date, or, perhaps, just out for some fresh air. Cindy appreciates the U.S. National's fast service, too. Just last week she stopped by, made a savings deposit, cashed a check and was on her way in less than a minute. Of course, she wouldn't have stopped if she hadn't been sure of the service. She had just minutes to get to the airport, meet some friends and then take off for a long week-end at the lake — but she made it with time to spare. If your days are as busy as Cindy's, why don't you be a come-as-you-are party, too? If you don't have an account, stop in. You'll find that banking can be a pleasure. ## Ma-ie Parade 'Livens' City

Downtown Omaha came alive with "Signs of Superstition" Friday as Omaha University's Ma-ie Day Parade wound its way through crowd-thronged streets.

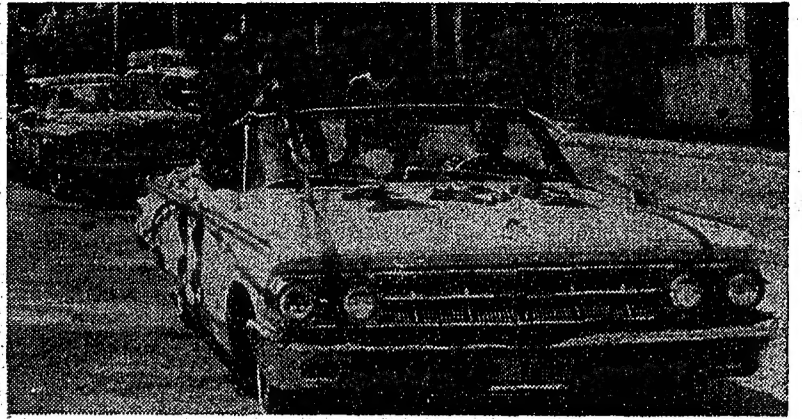

Approximately ten gaily-decorated floats and 100 cars, loaded with enthusiastic Ma-ie Day celebrators, lined up at 1:30 p.m. for the 2:30 trek downtown and back.

Hours of hard work paid off in trophies for three Ma-ie Day floats.

The three first-place trophy winners were Zeta Tau Alpha sorority for Best Workmanship, Alpha Xi Delta for Best Conveyed Theme, and Chi Omega for Best Use of Materials.

Plaques were given in a recognition division for floats constructed with limited funds. The Student Education Association was awarded for Best Conveyed Theme in this category while Student Nurses won for Best Use of Materials and the American Society of Civil Engineers for Best Workmanship.

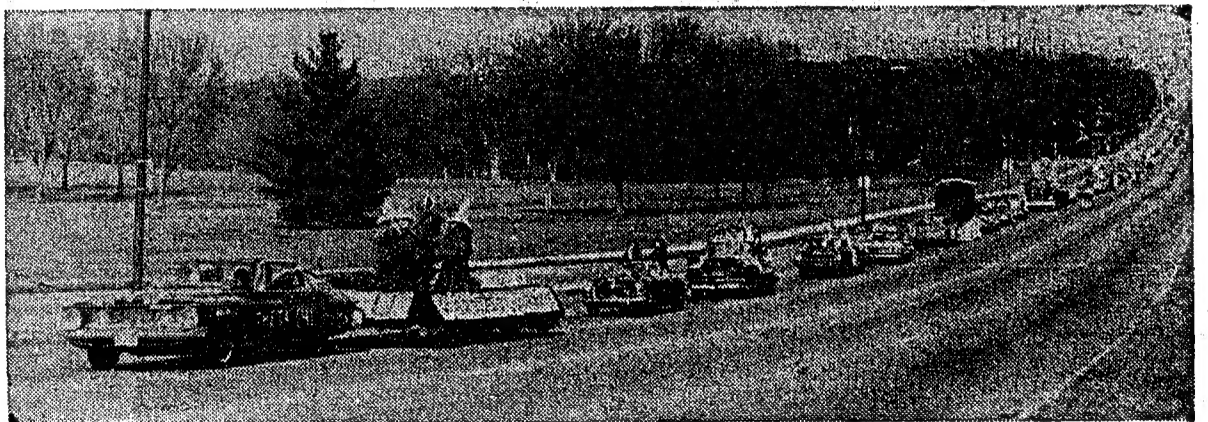

Cars driven by Susi Alhstrom, Claude Jelen, Sherry Given, Hal Riedemann and Joe Sheppard won ribbons for first through fifth place respectively.

Some 100 strong, the cars proceed through downtown Omaha.

No Bull . . . a lot of work went into the floats.

An hour-and-a-half later . . . all over but the judging.

New Members Initiated Into Freshman Honorary Society

Alpha Lambda Delta, national freshman women's honorary, initiated 23 new members into its chapter at Omaha University early in May.

To be eligible, freshman girls must acquire a grade point of 3.5 or above in either their first or second semesters at college.

New members are: Susan Acuff, Nancy Ahlstrand, Janis Allgood, Gail Bailey, Linda Barker, Jeanine Beck, Susan Bowen, Robyn Carmichael, Miriam Cukier, Melanie Devall, Jonell Dunn, Kathy Eydenberg, Janice Grasmick, Sheilah Jelinek, Nancy Montag, Patricia Mullaney, Rose Ann Olmstead, Linda Paulsen, Dierdre Power, Rene Steimle, Nancy Stevenson, Lian Taussig, and Vicki Winter.

New officers were also elected. They are: President, Melanie Devall; Vice-president, Rene Steimle; Secretary, Sheilah Jelinek; Treasurer, Linda Barker; and Historian, Sue Bowen.

In addition to new officers, Alpha Lambda Delta members also elected Delores Hurlburt as their Senior Advisor, and past-president Janet Archer as Junior Advisor.

Globe-Trotting OU Student To Japan School

By Vern Johnson

Aloha Hawaii!

This will be Carrol Dolinsky's words on June 10 as she leaves the University of Hawaii in Honolulu for Sofiya University in Tokyo, Japan.

Carrol studied the Japanese language and related subjects at the University of Hawaii this past year.

The 20-year-old Junior attended the University as a U.S. Scholarship winner of the East-West Center Institute for Student Interchange.

Scholarships were given to 30 Liberal Arts Juniors to study Japanese and Chinese and related courses at the University of Hawaii for one year.

At the University the Department of Asian and Pacific languages provided academic advice and recommendations after which the final decision for the summer field study was made by the Institute for student interchange.

In order to be eligible, Carrol had to maintain a B average or better in all her courses and a B or better in the Japanese language. She held an A-B average with an A in the Japanese language.

The field study will be about 2½ months in length. Two of these months will be devoted to language study and two weeks to other arranged field experiences.

Classes begin on June 12 at Sofiya University in the heart of Tokyo. Carrol's coordination will be through the University of Maryland.

"It is really hard for me to believe that we are studying for final exams and making final preparations for this month's experience," said Carrol.

Carrol says "Since the purpose of our field study is to have maximum exposure to intensive language useage, most of our studying will take place outside of the normal classroom situation."

Although the Chinese students who will be studying in Taiwan will be living in dormitories, Carrol and other Japanese students studying will live with families in the Tokyo area.

Carrol's scheduled trips will include the Northeast agricultural section of Japan and the Kyoto-Nara area, the seat of the traditional Japanese culture.

Students participating in this field study will be required to return to Honolulu for the period Monday, August 22 and Tuesday, August 23. The purpose of this will be to evaluate the field study and prepare for independent language study during the next year.

Carrol will return to OU next fall where she will graduate in June of 1967 with a Japanese and French major.

Once again it will be Aloha, Hawaii!
